FLOAT THERAPY

Float therapy involves floating in water heated to match your body temperature with a high concentration of Epsom salt. This combination helps your body enter a deep state of relaxation, so your brain can enter a place of rest and repair.

INFRARED SAUNA

Infrared saunas use the same type of heat as the sun without the ultraviolet rays we know to be harmful. Instead of heating the air, infrared saunas use radiant heat to penetrate the body directly to help detoxify, relieve pain and reduce inflammation.

MASSAGE THERAPY

Each of our locations offer a range of massage therapies that can help you improve your health and achieve deep relaxation. We specialise in remedial, sports, pregnancy and relaxation massage therapies.

PENINSULA CHRISTMAS CAROLS

STORY PATRICIA HIGGINS

The best way to spread Christmas cheer is to sing loud for all to hear, and with the Redcliffe Peninsula Christmas Carols, you and your family can do just that.

The event is three hours in duration, taking place in the first week of December and organised by What's On Moreton Bay, under the umbrella of Moreton Bay Region Industry and Tourism (MBRIT).

According to Natassia Wheeler, MBRIT CEO, the carols present a great opportunity to bring the community together, fostering a sense of unity and joy.

"This is while promoting a shared cultural experience and creating a festive atmosphere that captures the spirit of the holiday season," Ms Wheeler said.

Highlights of the celebrations include a visit from Santa, kid's themed activities, markets, food trucks, and, of course, the fabulous fireworks finale.

Ms Wheeler said an added benefit was the opportunity for local community groups to showcase their offerings to the wider community.

She added that overall, the carols were "the perfect environment to celebrate another big year in our city."

At the Christmas Carols, you can treat the family to a delicious meal from one of the food trucks and make sure you get your photo taken with Santa.

The Redcliffe Christmas Carols are one of four signature Christmas Carol events happening across Moreton Bay in December 2023, with the Caboolture Christmas Carols, North Lakes Christmas Carols, and Pine Rivers Christmas Carols also taking place in their respective locales.

Attendees are encouraged to bring a picnic blanket and enjoy free entry at Nathan Road Sportsground — a well-accommodated precinct featuring a full-size AFL field with lighting, a clubhouse, and change room facilities, as well as a playground and parkland.

"Everyone has a great time at the Redcliffe Christmas Carols," Ms Wheeler said. "It's a joyous event that offers an array of exciting activities for everyone."

More details regarding an exciting line-up of live entertainment are to come closer to the event.

End Spring on a High Note with Music in the Park

Kelsey Berrington

STORY ALYSSA MACKAY

Suttons Beach will transform into a vibrant hub of music and community spirit this month when Music in the Park takes centre stage.

Presented by the City of Moreton Bay and delivered by MBRT (Moreton Bay Region Industry and Tourism), this free family event promises an afternoon filled with live music, delicious food and activities.

Natassia Wheeler, MBRT CEO, said she encouraged everyone to join in by supporting local musicians and embracing the festivities.

"Music in the Park Redcliffe is set to be an exciting day containing lots of family fun, so be sure to bring your little ones along to enjoy the free kids activities and local musicians on show," Ms Wheeler said.

The event showcases an impressive line-up of artists, including lifelong Moreton Bay resident and singer/songwriter, Kelsey Berrington.

Known for his soulful folk music, Kelsey said the audience could expect some emotional songs with heartfelt stories, as well as a few terrible 'dad' jokes.

"I'm a big fan of storytelling and I try and capture settings and characters in how I write," Kelsey said. "I'm similar to artists like Passenger, Damien Rice and Ed Sheeran."

"I'm excited to see the other artists playing and if it's anything like the recent Music in the Park Dayboro I played at, the chilled vibe will be perfect for a Sunday afternoon."

Joining Kelsey in the line-up is acoustic singer-songwriter and Margate resident, Harry Phillips, who describes his sound as "something akin to John Mayer meets Ed Sheeran meets Jack Johnson."

"I love all genres of music but I'm particularly drawn to catchy, singable melodies and lyrics that have something a bit clever, inventive or thoughtful in them, so that's what I try to write," Harry said.

"I love getting out amongst the community and meeting people. I'm so lucky that I have a job where I can bring smiles to people's faces and I love being able to make new friends at every show."

Also gracing the stage is Never Too Late, a dynamic vocal duo, and rock band Winchester Revival, who will be performing an acoustic set.

A diverse selection of food trucks will be on-site, offering plenty of choices for afternoon tea and dinner. Kids will enjoy free face painting.

A serious painter trained in graphic design and fine art and with many solo exhibitions and other awards under her belt, Julie Purcell said it was still very reassuring to have her work evaluated by outside judges.

"I chose to enter this painting as I felt I'd achieved a quality that I'd been chasing for a few years," Julie said.

"I've mostly painted landscapes, scenes from the bush, so figurative painting is a new area. It's quite a leap to tackle painting people.

"I'm a full-time artist so this accolade is very important confirmation that what I do is working."

Nostalgia Wins the Day at RAS Exhibition of Excellence

A huge congratulations to local artist Julie Purcell! Her painting, inspired by a family photograph from the eighties, has been awarded first prize overall winner in the highly regarded Redcliffe Art Society (RAS) Exhibition of Excellence 2023.

The oil painting, titled EBWTY (Everyone's Beautiful When They're Young), is in a contemporary impressionistic style and depicts a happy memory most of us can relate to - a family party in the backyard at home. For the artist, at that time home was in Jamieson Street, Redcliffe. As with reminiscences from long ago, the details are a little hazy, which is exactly the nostalgic effect the artist intended.

Now in its 66th year, the exhibition is the Redcliffe Art Society's premier event, showcasing 60 of the best artworks from members. First and second prizes are awarded in six categories along with highly commended and special awards.

As first prize overall winner, Julie is invited to exhibit in the prestigious 15 Artists exhibition between 25 November and 10 February at the Redcliffe Art Gallery.

This is the second time Julie has been the overall winner, the first time being in 2021. She said being part of Redcliffe Art Society had helped her achieve a high level of professionalism.

"It's great to have such talented peers push me to work harder," she said.

The RAS Exhibition of Excellence 2023 is showing until 11 November. Don't miss this wonderful opportunity to see what talented artists we have and vote for your favourite for the People's Choice Award.

Rising star: Redcliffe student Daniel Black is travelling to the UK to train with West Ham United.

KICKING GOALS

STORY BROOKE JACOBSON

Redcliffe High School student Daniel Black is making his mark on the pitch - just make sure you call it football, not soccer.

Daniel has been selected for a two-week UK development tour with English Premier League Football club, West Ham United, and the Year 7 student said he couldn't be happier.

"I felt pretty excited (to be chosen), this will be my first time in the UK," he said.

"I will be training with the West Ham academy team and two other clubs from the big six, we're just not sure which ones yet."

For those not in the know, the "big six" are Arsenal, Chelsea, Liverpool, Manchester City, Manchester United, and Tottenham.

Daniel said although he was excited to be training with West Ham – where Matildas goalkeeper Mackenzie Arnold is captain of the women's team – he remained an Arsenal fan.

"Hopefully I could play for them one day, or even in Spain in La Liga for Real Madrid," he said.

Mum Corrinne said the training tour was a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity.

"To be chosen, Daniel went to a two-day trial at Redcliffe run by George Cowie Football and was chosen from there to go to a four-day trial on the Gold Coast," she said.

"I think there were about 600 kids there at the Gold Coast, and they just played a lot of football and had fitness testing as well."

Daniel currently plays for Redcliffe-based club Peninsula Power but has also had success in Little Athletics, futsal, cross country, and touch football.

"He's only been playing for three years with Pen Power, and he plays all different positions, wherever the coach needs him to go," Corinne said.

"He's played striker, midfield, even filled in as keeper when the keeper is away – he's just got that natural talent."

Daniel and Corinne will travel to the UK at the end of November for the tour, which also includes tickets to some Premier League and Championship games and a behind-the-scenes look at some of England's most famous football stadiums.

"Just getting tickets to some of these Premier League games is such a convoluted process, you've got to go into a ballot," Corinne said.

"But this is all organised for us as part of the tour with George Cowie Football and the West Ham United Foundation.

"It's going to be amazing."

For more information on the foundation and the tour, go to www.georgecowiefootball.com.au

REBECCA LEVINGSTON, I PRESUME!

Rebecca Levingston, presenter of the ABC Radio Brisbane's two and a half hour Morning Show has just finished her third outside broadcast at the Redcliffe Jetty. Her show has been part of the ABC Radio Brisbane's October broadcast commitment to present the Moreton Bay City's profile as one of the major growth areas in Australia, of which Redcliffe features prominently.

Despite an early 6 am start and it's now 11.30am, she still enthusiastically thanks her two producers, Rachel Mealey and Michelle Collins for helping to make the show another success. Asked whether she prefers outside broadcasts to those from a studio, she replies "I much prefer outside broadcasts, particularly in Redcliffe as it allows me to meet our listeners face to face and chat and to enjoy the magnificent vista that the Peninsula has to offer!"

Rebecca was born in Darwin and grew up in Townsville, but has worked and travelled all over the world. Upon finishing school, she studied Hotel Management and Japanese at Griffith University and then worked in Osaka, Japan and London. But this young jet setter wasn't ready to settle down yet! Rebecca moved to the United States, where she worked with an international communications company in Phoenix Arizona. This job stimulated a lifelong interest in journalism.

Finally returning to Brisbane, Rebecca studied journalism and in a part time capacity, became the ABC'S traffic reporter, eventually graduating with the ABC into a program producer's role. She subsequently achieved her ambition in becoming a program presenter. Later Rebecca achieved a personal milestone broadcast wise, in that she has presented every show that the ABC Radio Brisbane broadcasts daily, but readily admits that her favourite is her current Morning Show, which she has now done for almost five years. She has interviewed many interesting people including Prime Ministers, politicians, pop stars and even tiger cubs and crocodiles in the studio.

When asked about her experience broadcasting on the Peninsula, she believes that Redcliffe with its friendly welcoming persona and its outstanding vista is truly one of Queensland's best kept secrets saying "And I truly understand why Redcliffians want to keep this wonderful place, a secret! I would!"

Christmas Markets Get Crafty

STORY PATRICIA HIGGINS

For a very charming Christmas shopping experience, the Arts and Crafters Markets give the gift of over 50 local artisans – selling everything handmade and affordable.

Presented by the Moreton Bay Arts Council (MBAC) and supported by Redcliffe Art Society and Redcliffe Potters, the markets are held on the grounds of the heritage-listed Old Redcliffe Fire Station art complex.

According to MBAC President Janice Charlish, the upcoming Christmas markets were one of three versions of the markets, which were initially introduced in 2015 “to give local artists, crafters and designers of handmade products a place to showcase their collective talents in a beautiful location”.

“The market gives the buyer direct contact with the maker,” Ms Charlish said. “It’s also rewarding for the artisans to share how they make their product.”

Shoppers can expect a range of homewares, lots of home-grown plants, photography and artwork, kid’s clothes, silver jewellery and other accessories, plus much more.

With free entry and free parking, as well as plenty of undercover seating, the event is exceptionally patron-friendly with music also playing all day long.

Keep an eye on the event page at www.moretonbayartscouncil.org/events-2/ for more details coming soon, as well as other events.

Community Announcement

2024 is the Bi-Centenary year of the establishment of Redcliffe. On September 14, 1824, Lt Henry Miller landed at what is now Redcliffe, from the brig Amity with over 20 troops from the His Britannic Majesty's 40th Foot Regiment, their families and 29 convicts, thus not only establishing Queensland's first European settlement, but its first penal settlement as well.

In 2013, the iconic 'Wall of Fame' was established in the Jetty Arcade, located in Redcliffe's CBD. This wall serves as a tribute to the residents and groups who have made a positive impact on our community, whether through their reputation or actions. The categories represented include Sports, Business, the Arts, and many more.

Currently, there are over 110 names on the 'Wall of Fame,' but we believe there are many more deserving individuals who have yet to be recognized.

We urge all members of our community to examine the current list and consider if there are any names that should be added. Application forms for new name submissions

Red Cross Chicks Bring Fundraiser

STORY PATRICIA HIGGINS

Giving back through craft is what Red Cross Chicks is all about, and it's also a great way to find connection through a shared love of making things for the community.

The Red Cross Chick's craft group meets every Friday from 11.30am to 2.30pm to craft together and donate the proceeds to the Red Cross.

Craft has always sparked the interest of the organiser, Coleen Prior, who views it as a means of uniting people for a worthwhile goal.

"I find craft very relaxing and enjoyable, but can be obtained from the office of Dennis Austen Commercial in the Jetty Arcade. A community judging panel will assess all applications, and their decisions will be final. The deadline for new name applications is April 30th, 2024.

To celebrate the Bi-Centennial Foundation year and honor those who have contributed to the Redcliffe community over the past 200 years, we propose presenting each 'Wall of Famer' with a Certificate of Fame. For those who have passed away, their nearest relative will be invited to accept the award. Historic figures will have their certificates safely stored by Jetty management.

We envision this special event taking place in or near the Jetty Arcade, with the Queensland Premier presenting the certificates on Saturday, September 14, 2024, or a day nearest to it.

Let's come together and pay tribute to the individuals and groups who have shaped our community into what it is today. Help us make the 2024 Bi-Centennial Foundation year of Redcliffe a celebration to remember!

For more information and updates, please visit our website or contact the Jetty Arcade office.
www.redcliffebook.com/post/redcliffe-hall-of-fame-in-the-jetty-arcade more so, I enjoy watching how our group helps each other and lends a hand to those when help is needed," Ms Prior said. "I don't think I have ever been involved with such a wonderful group of ladies who would give their all for those in need."

The group is now hosting its very first fundraiser in early December, holding hourly raffles, a children's corner (with lucky dips), sausage sizzle and, of course, plenty of craft and other stalls.

In terms of the group itself, Red Cross Chicks always welcome new members (they ask for $3 for tea or coffee) with a Red Cross membership being mandatory for insurance purposes. Call 0419 755 743 for more information.

NO MORE JUMPING ASHORE

Old and new jetties. Woody Point 1924

HISTORY REDCLIFFE

By 1881, Redcliffe was becoming an attractive prospect for land speculators. Advertisements promised investors land “fronting to and commanding Magnificent Views of THE PACIFIC OCEAN ... lying open to the invigorating easterly breezes of summer”, which was all very well but those views and breezes were a long way from Brisbane with transport options limited and uncomfortable. When the alternatives were horseback or Mr Pollard’s coach service - “Scarborough now within three and a half hour’s drive of the metropolis” - other solutions had to be found.

Lack of a “proper means of landing on the shores” rendered travel by boat difficult and sometimes dangerous, not to mention awkward for lady passengers, who had to be carried ashore by the boatmen. Humpybong landowners, eager for the peninsula to become accessible for holidaymakers and potential land buyers, began to agitate for the construction of a jetty to accommodate the steamboats that would ply between Redcliffe and Sandgate, where the railway was to open in 1882.

Local and state governments were petitioned, the area around Woody Point was surveyed, loans were taken out and eventually construction of the jetty commenced in October 1881. It was completed the following year.

Criticism was not long in coming. Captain William Collin of the SS Norseman complained that the water was too shallow, which would limit the boats that could use it, and that the jetty was too far from Redcliffe and Scarborough. Notwithstanding these objections, the ferry trip between Sandgate and Woody Point became a popular outing.

The journey was not always without incident. In 1883, passengers from Woody Point were forced to spend a “most uncomfortable night” aboard the SS Redcliffe when the boat broke down and could not get to shore. In 1885, the SS Garnet ran into a cyclone-like storm and was damaged. Unable to land its passengers at Woody Point, and after spending a torrid time trying to ride out the weather, the Garnet had to return to Brisbane.

In 1889, the jetty was “reconditioned” and extended, and the trolley tracks used to transport goods along the two sections of the jetty were standardised. These improvements kept the old jetty going until 1921 when a new jetty was constructed. It was officially opened in March 1922 by the governor, armed with a “pair of silver scissors” while “a body of school children sang appropriate songs”. The ceremony was followed by an official luncheon served at the Harrington Café. They certainly knew how to party in those days.

UPDATE ON SUTTONS BEACH PAVILION

City of Moreton Bay's long-term project to revitalise Suttons Beach Pavilion and its surrounding park has reached a significant milestone. Mayor Peter Flannery announced the approval of a Development Application for the demolition of the existing pavilion, marking the beginning of a series of steps to enhance the Redcliffe Peninsula precinct. This initiative includes finding a contractor for demolition, site preparation, and potential future development. Council is also considering a design competition that incorporates Art Deco and contemporary elements based on community preferences. Despite structural defects, the project aims to preserve the area's iconic status while listening to the community's feedback.

Committed to Quality Service!

A WORD FROM OUR REPRESENTATIVES

It's that time of year again when our grade 12 students get ready to embark on their journey of life after high school. For many school leavers, their schedules will be filled with awards ceremonies and their upcoming graduation this month allowing for a moment to reflect on their hard work and dedication. I wish all the 2023 school leavers good luck and congratulations!

WITH YVETTE D'ATH MP

November is also a great time to begin reflecting on the year that has passed before we head into the busy Christmas and New Year season. I'm proud of everything that the Palaszczuk Government is doing to make Redcliffe the best it can be. We're investing over $1 billion into the redevelopment of Redcliffe Hospital, which will mean over 200 more beds. $21 million is being invested to redevelop Woody Point Special School, which is currently underway. We also announced more than $8 billion to tackle the cost of living in the 2023-24 state budget, including $550 cost of living rebates on electricity to all Queensland households, and $645 million over four years for free kindy.

There is always more to be done and I will continue to advocate for our Redcliffe community to ensure we have the investment we deserve.

With many students across Redcliffe and the Petrie Electorate graduating in November, I would like to acknowledge and congratulate everyone who is graduating in 2023.

WITH LUKE HOWARTH MP

This is a challenging, but nonetheless exciting time to be completing school. The future requires all of us to be adaptable and prepared. Exploring your options means accessing current information on a range of pathways, and talking to your parents, friends, teachers and career advisers.

There are always so many events and activities happening across the region and many of these are made possible with support and grants from our Council.

WITH CR SANDRA RUCK

Moreton Bay Pickleball Inc has recently opened new courts at Deception Bay. 'Movie in the Park' and music events are continuing to be rolled out across the region. The Newport Market has moved to a new location on Endeavour Esplanade. The REF Environmental group welcomed back our shorebirds with a massive event at the Deception Bay Environmental Hub. Our art galleries, libraries and museums continue to deliver exhibitions of the highest quality. Redcliffe Museum is hosting Walking through a Songline, a multi-sensory digital art installation until 26 November and don't forget our Christmas Carols at the Nathan Road Sports Complex on Sunday, 8 December 2023.

Council continues to actively explore ways to support people experiencing homelessness and is offering land for potential activation as social, affordable and/or crisis housing under a peppercorn lease, 50-year exclusive use arrangement to registered not-for-profit community housing providers or specialist homelessness services to develop the sites.

There is a lot to think about when deciding what to do after school. There are many opportunities with no right or wrong path to choose. Think about what energises you, what you are passionate about and your life experiences until now. It is important to make the best choice for you.

If you have not received your copy of the 2023 School Leavers' Guide, please contact my office to receive your free copy. The School Leavers' Guide covers:

OVER 50'S HEALTH

Hello, it's great to be speaking with you again about one of my favourite topics, Over 50's Health! Following on from last month, let's chat about a vital ally for sufferers of Osteoarthritis and Osteoporosis. Strength Training!

Strength training is often overlooked as a powerful tool when it comes to managing these conditions and improving the quality of life for sufferers. These skeletal disorders can limit mobility, and increase the risk of fractures, but the benefits of strength training are huge and amazing!

WITH JAN ROESCH

As you may or may not know, I have Osteoarthritis. It causes the degeneration of joint cartilage and often my body is in pain, and I wrestle stiff joints. What I do find is that when I go to the gym and lift weights, it helps me build muscle, that stabilizes and supports my joints, and I feel terrific after I have trained. On the flip side, if I don't train, I can really feel the arthritic pain.

I have done and continue to do a lot of research to help my condition, and the glaringly obvious is that strong muscles can alleviate the stress placed on the joints, reducing discomfort, and enhancing overall joint function.

For our Osteoporosis friends, where bone density decreases, strength training is also great. It promotes bone health by stimulating bone growth and increasing density. So, it not only strengthens muscles, but makes bones more resilient to fractures.

As always, I'm ready to help, just reach out www.over50shealth.au

DV SURVIVOR TO SPEAK AT ACTIVISM BREAKFAST

STORY PANAYIOTA

Advocacy and awareness; two words where one can't be seen or heard of without the other, because the truth is, we cannot advocate what we don't know about.

Zonta Club of Redcliffe (ZCR) has been raising awareness and advocating for women for over 43 years.

They're active involvement in the community includes Orange Activism at the heart of their goals because it deals directly with eliminating violence against women and young girls.

The colour orange reminds us that we can have a future without violence. It's also suggested to signify solidarity towards this important objective.

The Orange Activism Breakfast by ZCR is being held alongside 16 Days of Activism, a global campaign offered annually from 25 November (International Day for the Elimination of Violence Against Women) to 10 December (Human Rights Day).

"Our keynote speaker is Simone O'Brien, a very courageous domestic violence survivor," said Marie Stewart, Chair of the Advocacy Committee. "Simone also works as an ambassador for Domestic Violence Awareness in conjunction with numerous organisations."

"It started with emotional and psychological abuse, stealing, and insults. It ended with me being beaten with a baseball bat to within inches of my life," said Simone. "Somehow I pulled through, with lots of determination and support from my family and friends, and here I am today sharing my story to raise awareness on domestic violence."

For Simone, her focus includes educating.

"It's so important to talk about such a taboo subject and turn it into something positive. By speaking about it, especially to our next generations, we can change by creating healthier mindsets. Help them see past this negative toxic space."

"We all know someone who's been in this situation," said Simone. "And it's not limited to one culture or race. We all need to come together."

"For those affected, remember self care is the most important thing to moving forward," said Simone. "Never give up. Stay positive and keep smiling."

Strike Force Five Podcast Review

STORY BY NICK ALLFORD

Are talk show hosts really funny?

While most of them are sharp and witty, they are also backed up by a team of around 20 writers, researchers and fact checkers. So, when the writer's strike in the US hit, they were left without a show or a job. Instead of wallowing in self-pity, watching TV and eating cereal all day, five late night hosts decided to start a podcast - John Oliver, Seth Meyers, Stephen Colbert, Jimmy Kimmel and Jimmy Fallon. While it won't win any points for diversity, it is for good cause, as all money raised from the podcast, advertising and merchandising goes to support the writers.

The question is, when you have too many cooks, who is actually going to make the meal? Well, they tend to take it in turns to host/talk over each other, with varying degrees of success.

Now that the strike is done (kind of) they've packed it in and returned to their day (night) jobs leaving us with 12 episodes of banter between mates to enjoy. The last episode also features some of the more interesting material, focusing on their trepidation of returning back to work.

PENINSULA PIMPERNEL

ART and ANTIQUE THEFT.

I was recently intrigued on reading an article on art and antiques theft. The FBI recently estimated the value of worldwide art theft at between US$4 and $6 billion annually. As an example, in 1990 thieves stole 13 extremely valuable art works valued at over $300 million from a Boston Museum. All works still remain missing and they included works by Rembrandt and Vermeer.

WITH RICHARD

This story led me to an organisation named The Art Loss Register. Located in Black Friars Lane in London, it has an unbelievably 700,000 missing items on its database, including 65,000 missing items from museums around the world. Recently the British Museum conducted an audit of their vast collection and found that over 2000 valuable items were missing. Each year the Art Loss Register receives an equally amazing 450,000 searches from individuals and experts from around the world, checking for lost or stolen items as well as the provenance of items about to be purchased or sold.

Thankfully there are successes as well, although not as plentiful as one would like! More often stolen artwork and antiques are never recovered, they are kept under lock and key by crooked collectors of art. In 1981, seven 18th Century pure gold snuff boxes were stolen from an English stately home. An eagle eyed investigator discovered them in an auction over 40 years after they had been stolen. They are now back at the stately home.

Similarly four ancient bronze tortoises were stolen in 1992. Again they were detected in an auction and returned to the original owner. Yet another theft was solved through the medium of an auction. A valuable early 20th Century painting by Robert Hutchinson entitled Children Wading was stolen along with other items from a Glasgow Museum in 1989. The thieves gained entry by deactivating the alarm system. However, the painting was recovered, after being located in a recent auction, over 30 years later.

And what about the thieves who hope to become rich on the sale of their ill-gotten gains? The black market price for stolen art work ranges from between 7 to 10 percent of the work's value. Still 10% of $300 million is not to be sneezed at!

end to her medical studies and caused endless pain, amputations, miscarriages, respiratory issues and ongoing treatment all her short life. Using her mighty spirit at this difficult juncture, she embraced art, teaching herself everything while an invalid. Politics, activism and the Communist Party also featured heavily during this tumultuous period. Then 1929 ushered in the enduring love of her life, Diego Rivera, a wealthy, respected artist 21 years her senior. Like the Civil War, their marriage was a torrid yet interesting union. She divorced him in 1939 only to remarry

Determination and Belief

STORY GABRIELLE TURNBULL

There once lived an artist whose life was short and full of pain-filled challenges and tragic circumstances. Yet despite the countless hurdles placed before her, she persevered with her dream to live as an artist, no matter what. Little did she realise that her passion and determination would live on and inspire a multitude of people for generations to come. Her name was Frida Kahlo.

One young girl at Art So Lively was inspired by Frida's amazing persona. Recently, after borrowing a book about Frida from our library, Havana decided she was going to be Frida for a school day - during Book Week. With the loving support of her family, she wore an amazingly inspiring and accurate costume!

Frida Kahlo was born in 1907 in a village outside Mexico City. Her early home life was very sad, with sickly parents existing in a "loveless marriage". At six years old, she contracted polio and consequently suffered severe bullying at school. On top of this, she was sexually abused by a female teacher. These experiences made her reclusive, yet Frida found great comfort in her father's love. He surrounded her with a knowledge of literature and photography and a love of nature. His support and Frida's inner strength enabled her to perform well at school and pursue a career as a physician.

However, a teenage Frida nearly died in a bus crash, suffering serious injuries. This put an him in 1940. During this time, health problems beset Frida again, yet she produced around 200 artworks in her lifetime, many being self-portraits reflecting her painful emotions relating to her turbulent marriage with Rivera and her physical limitations. Yet Rivera was a great encourager of Frida's work. Her first self-portrait entitled Self-Portrait in a Velvet Dress, painted in 1926 when she was 19, was the forerunner of many more self-portraits documenting her difficult but rich life.

Her last drawing was of a black angel, which some have interpreted as the angel of death. She died in hospital aged 47. In 2021 her work, Diego and I, sold for US$34.9 million at a Sotheby's auction - a testament to her being a titan of twentieth-century art.

What an inspiration this artist is!

STORY ALYSSA MACKAY

Get ready for two weekends of sustainable shopping when the Garage Sale Trail comes to Moreton Bay.

Set your reminders for 11-12 and 18-19 November, because this Australia-wide festival of pre-loved stuff is not to be missed.

Mayor Peter Flannery said as the cost of living increased, the Garage Sale Trail was a great way to find affordable goods and make some extra cash.

"Selling stuff you no longer need reduces the amount of waste headed to landfill, so this is a good opportunity to do your bit for the environment," Mayor Flannery said.

The Garage Sale Trail started eleven years ago and is now supported by almost 100 councils across the country.

Redcliffe resident Anne McGilvray, who is hosting the Dix Street Botanical, Retro and Handmade garage sale, said the initiative had been on her 'to-do' list for years.

"I used to sell vintage clothes on eBay but simply don't have the time for it anymore, so I have bags and bags of clothes, and shoes, and bags," Anne said. "They really deserve new homes instead of languishing unseen and unworn.

"I've also received some really beautiful handmade gifts from friends and family over the past year and they were so good, I decided other people should get a chance to own them as well. As a result, we will have some beautiful stained glass, intricate 3D collages, handmade bracelets, crystals, and semi-precious stone pendants."

The sale will also feature yummy baked treats and "little botanical treasures" for sale.

Anne said the Garage Sale Trail was a great way to repurpose things that might otherwise go to landfill.

"As they say, one man's trash is another man's treasure," she said. "We live in such a consumer-driven and throw-away society, so this is a great way to re-think our attitudes to 'stuff' and give them a second, or third, or even fourth life.

"It is also a great way to meet people in your community who feel the same way.

"Life moves very quickly these days and most of it seems conducted through a screen. The Garage Sale Trail gives us an opportunity to connect with our neighbourhood in real time, face to face. You can't beat that."

Valley Fiesta Set to Ignite Brisbane's Nightlife

Brisbane's biggest annual party, Valley Fiesta, returns this month for another unforgettable celebration of live music.

Major headline and local acts will take centre stage in Chinatown Mall and Brunswick Street Mall in Fortitude Valley for the free, two-day event.

Lord Mayor Adrian Schrinner said Valley Fiesta, presented by Brisbane City Council and produced by QMusic, was a cornerstone of Brisbane's music and arts scene.

"For more than 25 years, Valley Fiesta has been captivating audiences and contributing to our incredible local music scene," Cr Schrinner said.

"The festival's two jam-packed days will provide an incredible platform for local artists to strut their stuff while bringing more free and affordable activities to our entertainment precincts."

The festival kicks off with the family-friendly King Street Food Fiesta on Friday, 3 November, where some of Brisbane's favourite emerging artists, including QUBE Effect Lord Mayor's Live Event Award winner Lucy Korts, will perform on the outdoor stage.

Lucy said she was looking forward to being part of an incredible line-up with so many talented artists.

"It's always surreal to see your name beside others who you admire so much," Lucy said. "I can't wait to share my music and stories with new ears."

She said the audience could expect "excitement and vulnerability" as well as "a little heartbreak and a lot of love" from her performance.

Lucy Korts

"I'm so keen to play for everybody attending and I hope you all love the sounds that I make," she said.

The King Street Food Fiesta will also feature performances from Kuzco and Taitu'uga, as well as roving entertainment and a variety of pop-up dining options from King Street restaurants.

The party continues on Saturday, 4 November with a massive line-up of musicians on the main stage in the Chinatown Mall. Acts include Brisbane-based musicians like Mallrat and Hatchie, and Melbourne-based psychedelic jazz fusion group, Mildlife, along with First Beige and Ixaras.

The Brunswick Street Mall stage will feature Skeleton, Miss Kaninna, Party Dozen, Middle Name Dance Band, Selve and JayBird Byrne.

Other fiesta experiences include the Hidden Lanes Bar Trail with local bars offering special deals and DJ performances from the likes of David Versace and El Delpha.

How much a bad hire can cost you.

It can be a soul-destroying experience for a business owner. You are desperate to find someone to grow your business or replace an existing team member who has left and you end up hiring a dud.

I have a rule for my clients, hire slowly, even if it means you have some short term pain until you get the right person, it will be worth it in the long term,

WITH BRAD FLYNN

Because if you do not get the right person, studies can show, it will cost you anywhere between 50% and 100% of that person's annual wage if you get it wrong.

When you consider the recruitment costs for advertising, lost time for the owner and other team members in reviewing resumes, interviewing, and training, the cost to managers for having deal with issues related to the bad hire and the impact on the rest of the team, you can see that the stats quoted above can become a reality.

To avoid this happening, you must be super clear on the attitude, knowledge and skills the ideal person must have. Make a list and don't hire unless someone meets 80% of your required criteria.

GOOD MENTAL HEALTH

Recognising and Responding to Elder Abuse

Elder abuse is a serious and hidden problem that affects as many as one in six older Australians. It is often caused by a family member or someone close to the person. It can damage the older person's physical, mental and emotional health and make them feel isolated, fearful and depressed.

Abuse in an older person will often show itself as anxiety, depression, fear of people and/or physical injuries they are reluctant to discuss.

WITH TANYA FISHER

Elder abuse can take many forms, such as:

- Psychological or emotional abuse: This includes insults, threats, humiliation, disrespect, or controlling behaviours that cause emotional pain or injury to the older person.
- Financial abuse: This involves the misuse or theft of the older person's money or assets, such as selling or transferring their property without their consent or knowledge.
- Physical abuse: This refers to any act that causes physical pain or injury to the older person, such as hitting, pushing, or kicking.
- Sexual abuse: This covers any sexualised behaviour that is performed without the older person's consent or around them, making them feel uncomfortable, threatened, or hurt.
- Social abuse: This means forcing the older person to become isolated and preventing them from accessing other people or services. This is done to hide the abuse from others.
- Neglect: This occurs when the carer or other responsible person fails to meet the older person's basic needs, such as food, water, medication, medical care, or safe and clean housing.

If you are concerned about elder abuse, you can call the Elder Abuse Helpline for free, anonymous and confidential assistance. The helpline is available from 9am to 5pm, Monday to Friday. The phone number is 1300 651 192.

Elder abuse is not acceptable and can be stopped. You are not alone and there is good help available.

Redcliffe Counselling can give support and guidance if you want further information about accessing mental health resources and counselling services. Contact Tanya on 0487 844 603.

BAY WOK RESTAURANT BRINGS FLAVOUR FUSION

Bay Wok MultiAsian Restaurants' approach to a fusion of fresh Asian and Australian food is the result of years of experience in five-star hotels and other hospitality venues, both abroad and at home on the Peninsula.

Jing Hua Bi, also known as Stella, and Kin Wo Lee, also known as Jack, who have lived in Australia for more than 30 years, introduced their distinctive cuisine to a convenient new location in Clontarf in January of this year.

Stella said that her cooking was well-known when she worked for the Bramble Bay Bowls Club, and that with the opening of her own restaurant, she was once again able to provide customers with the food they had sorely missed.

"We haven't been open that long really, but people keep returning, even from as far as Deception Bay. We have a good name due to word-of-mouth," Stella said.

According to Stella, all vegetables are crisp and food is cooked fresh upon ordering, with bain maries used only to keep food warm while customers are on their way to pick-up.

Beef is sourced locally as well as honey, giving Bay Wok's popular Honey Chicken what Stella describes as an exceptional flavour profile, and the attention to detail does not stop there.

"We make all the favourites such as Japanese Curry and Sweet and Sour Pork, but we're the go-to for people seeking highly authentic Chinese dishes, as well as catering to vegan, vegetarian and gluten-free dietary requirements," Stella said.

Menu options extend to Australian fare, with dishes like burgers and fish and chips—an aspect that reflects the owners' personal lifestyles.

"For us, living in Australia for so many years, we feel very Aussie," Stella said. "We love fishing and the ocean life. We think it's important to close shop on Sundays to take the grandkids swimming."

Stella said that overall, her and her husband's early employment in Hong Kong as well as the Australian hospitality environment have influenced their methods, giving their restaurant its now-signature cultural blend of delectable tastes.

THE OLD OAK Movie Review

s the pub important? For some it's just a place to buy a pint, but for many, it's a second home.

Where friends can meet and discuss the events of the day and share their stories. Which is why director Ken Loach has chosen this location as the backdrop for his latest film 'The Old Oak'.

Before we go any further with this review it's worth noting that Loach's movies tend to be on the bleaker side of storytelling.

No car chases, no Hollywood A-Listers and rarely even a love story in sight. What he does excel at is creating thought-provoking films that often feel so real, you may feel voyeuristic... and The Old Oak is no exception.

Set in a working class town in the North of England, times are tough, and the people are even tougher. The one place that remains constant is The Old Oak public house, standing the test of time through the closures of the mines and its dwindling population.

Tensions rise further when their village starts to house Syrian refugees, who receive less than a warm welcome.

Delving deep into human emotions, exploring themes of resilience, redemption, and the power of community. The masterful storytelling and the exceptional performances by the cast make it an insightful and realistic journey. It's not all doom and gloom, with the occasional heartwarming moment to elevate the bleakness.

One of the film's strengths is its ability to tackle social issues without being preachy, allowing the audience to draw their own conclusions.

The film sheds light on the harsh realities faced by working-class communities, exploring themes of unemployment, poverty, and the loss of traditional values. Loach's direction is impeccable, capturing the essence of the town's desolation and the despair that sticks to the locals like glue.

It can feel slow, and reducing the time spent on certain scenes would have helped with some of the pacing issues.

Overall, it's a powerful and emotional film, featuring compelling performances and thought-provoking themes. Loach's ability to capture the essence of working-class struggles and the power of acceptance and community make The Old Oak worth a watch.

The Old Oak is screening as part of the Cunard British Film Festival screening in Brisbane from 2nd – 29th November at Palace cinemas.

Summer Whiting - Sillago ciliata

Summer Whiting, sometimes known as Beach, Sand or Blue Nose Whiting are in my list of top five fish to eat. Luckily we have an abundance of these tasty fish right on our doorstep and you don't even need a boat to get a feed.

Blood worms or beach worms are a favourite bait of most whiting fishermen locally but I have been finding earthworms are just as effective. Small peeled prawns, pipis and freshly pumped yabbies are great bait too. Using a number 4 long shank hook, about 30cm of leader, a swivel and a small running sinker with light line they are great fun to catch.

Most of the Whiting I catch are only in very shallow water, mainly knee deep to waist deep so our local beaches and sand flats are perfect. The sandy flats at Scarborough, the little beaches all the way along Redcliffe waterfront, Clontarf beaches, Brighton and Sandgate foreshores are all excellent spots at certain times of the tide. I like an incoming tide over the flats, not a lot of wind and using two rods as they usually seem to turn up a few at a time as they are cruising around looking for food.

A size limit of 23cm and a bag limit of 30 in Queensland lets you take home quite a feed. They grow to just over 50cm but a 30cm fish is considered quite the catch.

Organic Gardening in November

Time to Get Waterwise!

With predictions of an El Nino weather system, we can't count on normal summer rains this year. And if the dry persists, councils will likely bring in water restrictions.

Regardless, a waterwise garden will serve you, and the environment, very well.

Let's start with the choice of plants. Cacti and succulents are wonderful, and many natives, especially from arid zones, are water efficient and drought tolerant.

Organic matter helps soil hold water more effectively. Dig in natural composts eg animal manure, worm castings or mushroom compost. For a no-dig garden or pot plant top up, use a thick layer of organic matter covered by mulch.

Mulch itself reduces water evaporation by up to 70%. Sugarcane mulch is cheap and easy to use but for pots consider more attractive solutions such as glass pebbles.

Re-wetting agents can reduce your watering by up to 50% by allowing water to soak into soil instead of running off the surface.

Water crystals added to soil or potting mix form a clear water holding jelly that waters plants over a period.

Lastly, healthy plants are more drought tolerant so keep up the organic fertiliser eg liquid seaweed.

Now enjoy your waterwise garden!

'DEBBIE'S CHOCOLATE PUDDING'

I hope you enjoy 'Debbie's Chocolate Pudding', which comes from my mother's recipe book. Debbie was a friend of my mother's, and that is how she recorded all her hand written recipes. It is a family favorite, served mainly for dessert following Sunday lunches, when all the family would attend.

This month's recipe is courtesy of Kerrie, Secretary of the Clontarf CWA Branch.

INGREDIENTS

FOR BODY OF PUDDING

60g butter
1 egg
½ cup sugar
½ cup milk
1 cup SR flour
2 dessert spoons cocoa

For the sauce

½ cup sugar
2 dessert spoons cocoa
1 & ½ cups boiling water

METHOD

Cream the butter and sugar until colour changes from yellow to creamy white, then add the egg and beat it in.

Sift all the dry ingredients and then add them with the milk, alternately. When combined, transfer to a moderately large Pyrex dish.

Mix sugar and cocoa together and sprinkle over the batter. Pour boiling water over the back of a dessert spoon. This will help to avoid putting holes in the batter.

Bake for 35-40 minutes in a moderate oven (350F or 180 C)

When slightly cooled, serve warm with custard, ice cream or cream.

The Clontarf branch of the QCWA hold meetings on the 2nd Wednesday of each month 9.30am, craft every 2nd & 4th Thursday 9am and indoor bowls every Monday morning 9.30am held at the QCWA Clontarf Hall, Cnr Victoria Ave & Georgina Street, Woody Point.

ROOF RESTORATIONS

Transform your tired old roof with a value boosting makeover

Full Roof Restorations
From only $3,000

- Repair and Change Out Broken Tiles
- High Pressure Clean
- Re-bed Ridge Capping (if required)
- Re-point Ridge Capping
- Sterilise Surface (if required)
- Apply Primer/Sealer
- Apply New Roof Membrane (2 coats)
- Apply Nano Clear Protect Coating (barrier coat to prevent fading)

All roofs age over time. After around 15 years, tile roofs deteriorate to the point where a restoration should be considered. At this age, colour starts to fade, ridge capping becomes brittle, lichen and mould can grow, and tiles become harder to clean. The appearance of your home suffers and your roof is more likely to develop leaks.

Richard Gabriel from Mr Highlights Roofing has over 20 years experience in the roofing trade. He uses only premium quality products for his restorations, and offers a full 12 years warranty on all workmanship and materials.

Richard is an owner/operator and doesn't employ salespeople, so costs are kept to a minimum which means savings for you!
